LEGENDARY K-ZONERS DOING LEGENDARY THINGS.

MUSIC MAESTRO

Name: Phoenix

Heroic feat: He received the 2018 Variety Heart Scholarship in The Arts for music! The scholarship helped Phoenix buy a new bass recorder, travel to perform, and attend State Recorder Camp!

FAST FOUR WITH PHOENIX

K-Z: How did you learn about the Variety Heart Scholarship, and how did it feel when you were chosen?

P: I found out from my schoolteacher. She saw that I had a talent and passion for music. I was pretty excited when I saw the Governor at Government House in Sydney, but what really topped it off was receiving gourmet chocolates after I told the lady at the hotel front desk that I had received a scholarship!

K-Z: Can you share some highlights of your time performing music?

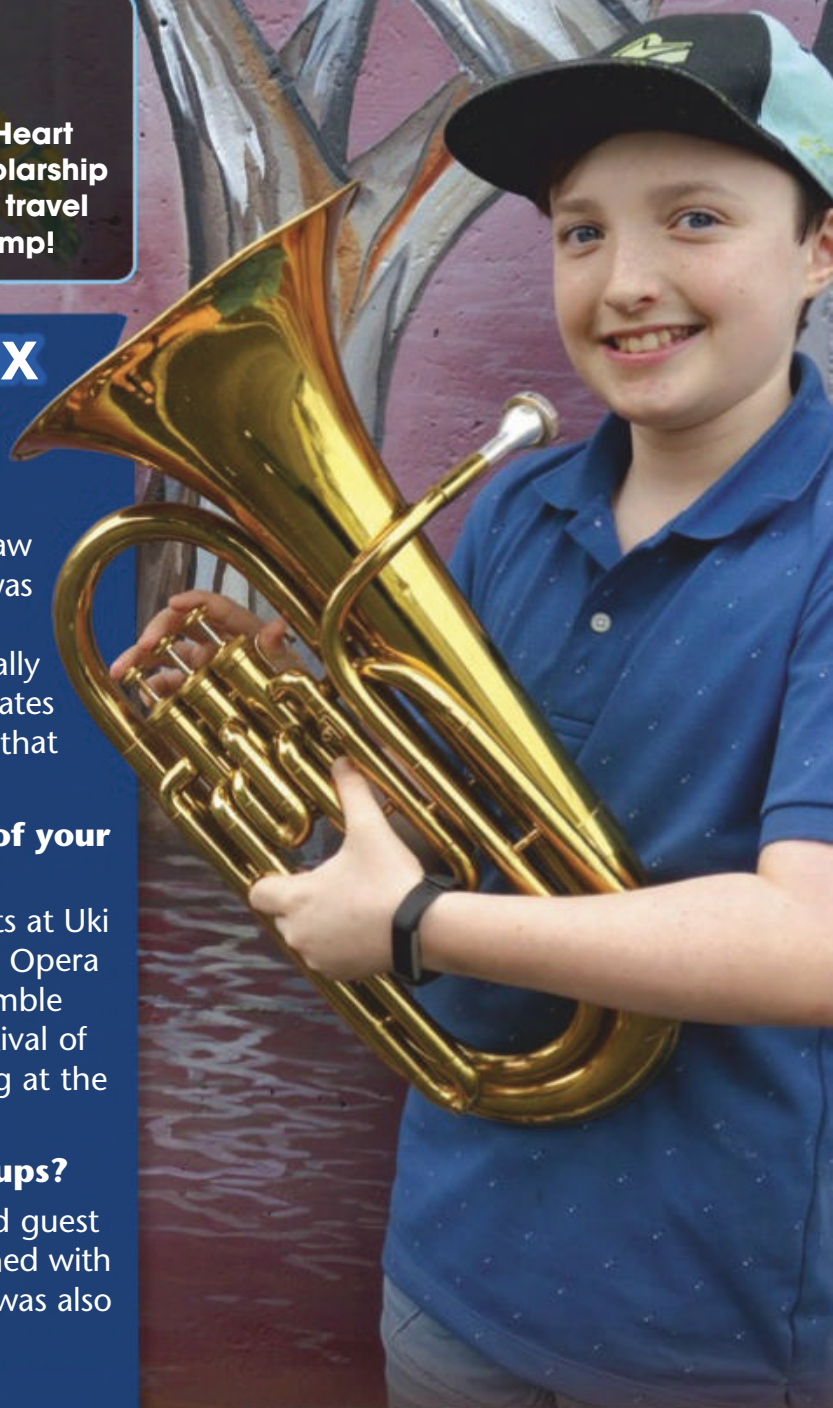

P: I have been everywhere from the markets at Uki to Sydney Opera House. I am going to the Opera House for State Band, State Recorder Ensemble and School Recorder Ensemble for the Festival of Instrumental Music. I also loved performing at the Aged Care Christmas party.

K-Z: Do you play in any musical groups?

P: I play in six bands/groups at school, and guest in a Blues band outside of school. I performed with Opera Australia in the children's choir and was also selected for the lead children's role.

K-Z: How often do you practise?

P: I practise euphonium every day, and every two or three days for recorder. I go to band practice three times a week in the morning, and one night for Whopping Big Band.

SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING, ART AND MATHS!

Meet Daniel Rumsey, the Head of Reptiles at The Australian Reptile Park!

KZ: Hey Daniel! What do you do as Head of Reptiles?

D: Each day, I look after some of the world's coolest reptiles, from snakes and crocodiles to lizards and turtles.

KZ: Why did you choose this career?

D: I've loved reptiles ever since I was given my first blue-tongue lizard, Bluey, when I was five.

KZ: What experience did you have before becoming Head of Reptiles?

D: I have worked at different institutions across the country and also studied captive animal studies, the course designed for zookeeping.

KZ: What is antivenom, and what does the Australian Reptile Park do with it?

D: The team extracts venom from some of the most venomous land-dwelling snake species in Australia. We have a small team who all love snakes, and extract venom for the production of antivenom. This antivenom is used to help people bitten by a venomous snake, and the program has saved over 20,000 lives!

KZ: Awesome! What happens on your typical day at work?

D: A typical day includes walking Komodo dragons, and feeding the Galapagos tortoises and the saltwater crocodiles.

KZ: What is your career highlight?

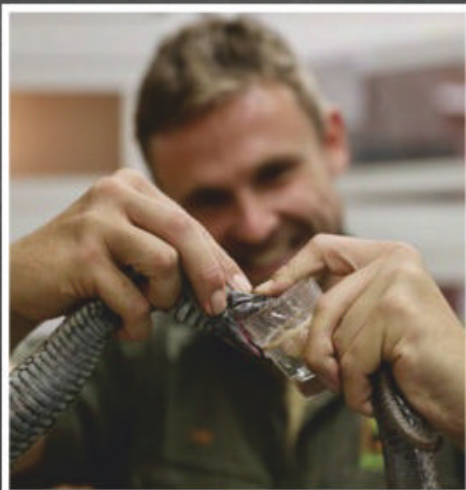

D: Starting a conservation project for the endangered Manning River Turtle.

KZ: Did any childhood activities give you helpful skills for your current job?

D: I've been keeping reptiles at home since I was five. I love getting outdoors and seeing reptiles in their natural habitat! You learn so much seeing them in the wild.

KZ: What would you say to K-Zoners who want to work in a similar role?

D: Be passionate, never stop learning about the animals you love and get involved with your local zoo or wildlife park.

NEWS

BITE-SIZED NEWS FOR HUNGRY MINDS!

PREHISTORIC NEWS

We think of crocodiles as carnivores, but now scientists from University of Utah, USA, have discovered some ancient croc relatives were herbivores! Scientists Keegan Melstrom and Randall Irmis created 3D scans and casts of teeth samples, to study 146 fossil teeth from 16 species of 'crocodyliforms' (a group from which modern reptiles are descended). Their research showed the tooth shape was linked to diet. The more complex the tooth, the more likely that reptile ate plants – because eating plants takes more work. There were at least three extinct crocodylians that had a vegetarian diet, and possibly more. Game changer!

Artist's reconstruction of Pakasuchus, an extinct herbivore.

Artist's reconstruction of Notosuchus, an extinct carnivore.

ENVIRONMENT NEWS

Robert Downey Jr. is known for being Iron Man, but the actor wants to save the world too! In June, Robert unveiled plans for the Footprint Coalition, an initiative which will use AI, robotics and nano technology to clean the planet and reverse our carbon footprint within 10 years. Robert is aiming to launch by April 2020!

ANIMAL NEWS

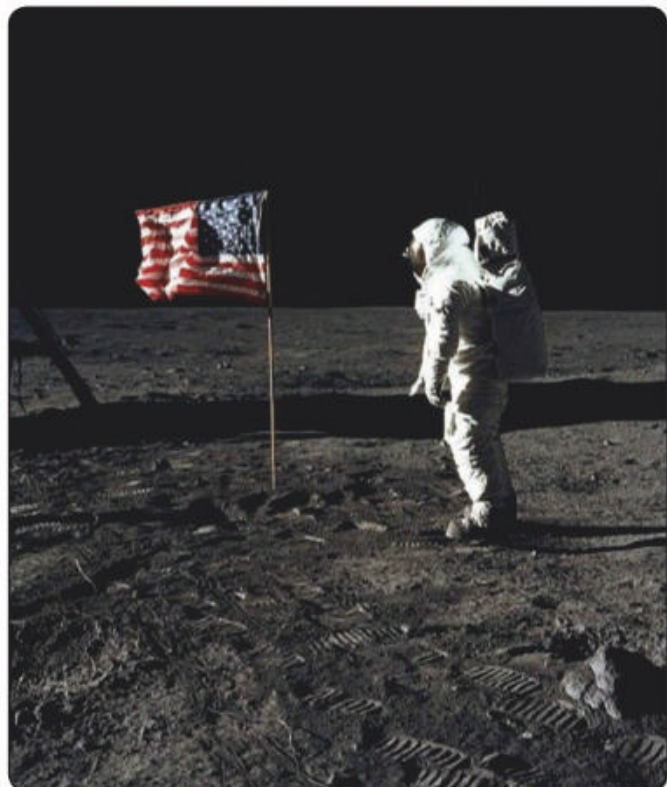

A young Arctic fox has made an historic trek from Spitsbergen in the Svalbard Archipelago, Norway to Ellesmere Island, Canada. In March 2018, the female fox (less than a year old) was fitted with a tracking device by researchers from the Norwegian Polar Institute. The fox walked 3506km in 76 days, with an average of over 46km a day, and a maximum of 155km. No fox has ever been recorded travelling that fast!

SPACE NEWS

Original footage of the 1969 moon landing sold for $3,000,000 ($1,820,000 US) at an auction on July 20 – the 50th anniversary of humans landing on the moon! The NASA video shows astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin E. 'Buzz' Aldrin Jr. taking first steps on the moon on July 20, 1969. The recordings were first purchased at a government surplus auction in June 1976 by Gary George, who was a NASA intern at the time. The footage was included in 1150 reels of tape, and Gary paid roughly $311 for it. He intended to resell the tapes to local TV stations, to record over whatever was already filmed. However, Gary's dad was interested in space and after noticing 'APOLLO 11 EVA' labels on three boxes, he convinced Gary to hold onto all the tapes.

HERE ARE OUR TOP STUNTS FROM THE BIGGEST MOVIES THIS YEAR!

AVENGERS: ENDGAME

SCIENCE STAR

We know Bruce Banner is a talented scientist, so perhaps we shouldn't be surprised by his scientific breakthroughs, but sometimes we can't help it! Seeing a balanced combo of the Hulk and Banner after five years passes in Avengers: Endgame was a huge moment! Bruce stopped viewing the Hulk as a problem, and spent 18 months in a gamma lab to bring the pair together. Incred! While Bruce's time travel experiment might not have gone to plan, he did push time through Scott Lang, AKA Ant-Man – how many people can say that? Of course, the biggest, bravest stunt was when Bruce snapped his fingers while wearing the Infinity Stones. The radiation knocked him out and permanently damaged his arm, but Bruce's actions saved everyone lost to Thanos' Snap.

BRUCE BANNER

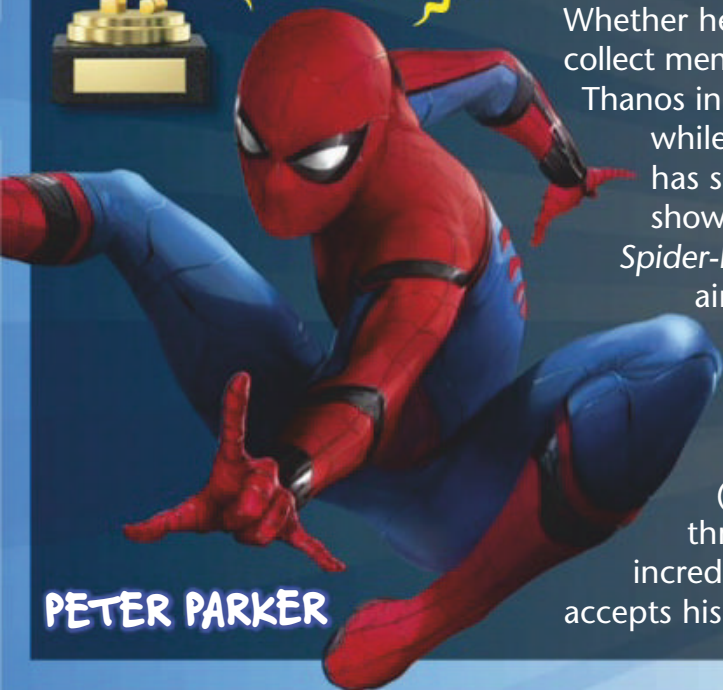

Spider-Man: Far From Home

STUNT SENSES

Whether he's swinging through the air on another planet to collect members of the Guardians of the Galaxy in a fight with Thanos in Avengers: Infinity War, or hurtling through the sky while attached to Mjolnir in Avengers: Endgame, Peter has seen his share of intense stunts. However, he really showcases his range of abilities during the final battle in Spider-Man: Far From Home. Dodging and weaving in the air around London's Tower Bridge and utilising his webs as traps at high speed was already impressive, but it's only the lead up to the main event. When Peter closes his eyes, showing he can finally trust his instincts and properly rely on his Spidey Senses (or 'Peter Tingle', if you're Aunt May) to navigate through a deadly tunnel of obstacles, the result is an incredible climactic scene. It's the moment Peter finally accepts his role as Spider-Man, and we love it!

PETER PARKER

ROPHIES

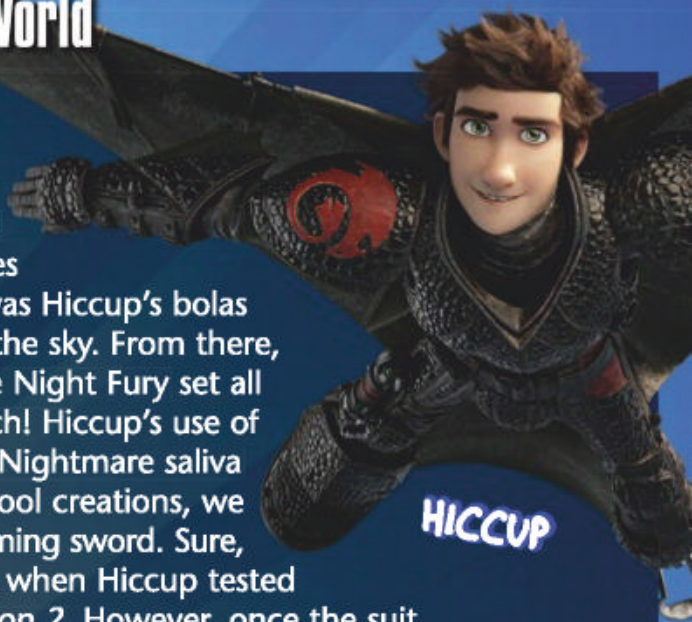

How To Train Your Dragon: The Hidden World

BRAINS OF BERK

The Viking son of Stoick and Valka is a talented inventor, and we see the results of those creations in the movies and the TV show! The invention that started it all was Hiccup's bolas launcher, which he used to knock Toothless out of the sky. From there, the harness rig and prosthetic fin he created for the Night Fury set all of Berk on a new path, combining dragons with tech! Hiccup's use of flammable Hideous Zippleback gas and Monstrous Nightmare saliva in battle is ingenious, and if we're listing all of his cool creations, we definitely have to mention Inferno, his retractable flaming sword. Sure, sometimes there were... bumps along the way, like when Hiccup tested his final wingsuit design in How To Train Your Dragon 2. However, once the suit works, the Riders of Berk are able to fly without dragons – which is pretty important when it comes to the final showdown with Grimmel in The Hidden World. Without those wingsuits, Grimmel would have trapped all the dragons of Berk, forever!

HICCUP

COOLEST CREATURE

As a Night Fury, Toothless can move through the air with incredible speed and agility, dive bombing from great heights and folding his wings to create a more streamlined shape. In The Riders of Berk, Toothless even breaks the sound barrier! When Toothless takes part in a dominance display with Drago's Bewilderbeast in How To Train Your Dragon 2, he manages to charge himself for a stronger firepower, which makes his newly discovered row of secondary spines glow bright blue. His defeat of Drago's Bewilderbeast is an amazing moment! Finally, learning from the Light Fury in The Hidden World, Toothless finds he can actually summon lightning from the sky to turn his scales reflective, and disappear from sight after travelling through the heat of his own plasma blast. Definitely a cool stunt!

ADVENTURE TIME

STRAP YOURSELF IN FOR EPIC EXPLOITS, ESCAPADES AND EXPERIENCES!

THE ANGRY BIRDS MOVIE 2

Red, Bomb, Leonard and the rest of the gang are back! The citizens of Bird Island and Pig Island will be forced to work together and save their homes when a third island is discovered. Will the Bad Piggies and Angry Birds be able to get along? Either way, there'll be plenty of laughs and stunts!

RATING: 😂😂😂😂😂

The Angry Birds Movie 2 hits cinemas September 12!

Abominable hits cinemas September 19!

ABOMINABLE

When Yi finds a Yeti on the roof of her building, she realises the young creature needs to find his family. With Yi's friends, Jin and Peng, they leave on a mission to reunite Everest, the Yeti, with his magical family. Yi is determined to succeed, even if it does mean travelling over 3000km from Shanghai to the Himalayas!

RATING: ❄️❄️❄️❄️❄️

DORA AND THE LOST CITY OF GOLD

Dora grew up exploring the great outdoors, so she definitely has serious survival skills. Her abilities will come in handy on a mission to find her parents and an ancient city made of gold! Can Dora, her best mate (and monkey) Boots, and some new friends, save the day and discover a legend?

RATING: 🐵🐵🐵🐵🐵

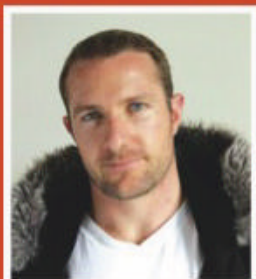

Dora and the Lost City of Gold hits cinemas September 12!

SLEEP, STUNT, REPEAT

CONFESSIONS OF A PROFESSIONAL STUNT PERSON!

NIK SCHODEL

Nik has been a stunt pro for 19 years, and has worked on epic movies like Wonder Woman and Men In Black: International!

EARLY BIRD GETS THE WORM

“On a typical work day, I get up at 5:00am and head to the set. If we are preparing a film, we'll start the morning with about two hours of training. The team trains together to encourage each other. We all have different strengths; sometimes we'll put a challenge up for a particular skill. It helps us all push ourselves and unlock new skills.”

PRACTISE, PRACTISE, PRACTISE

“After we get the script, we see what action is required for scenes. We have a rehearsal space and develop the action there. We will build mock-ups of the sets and design the fights as per the script, or what the director has asked for. If it's a superhero movie, a team of riggers use wires and ropes to fly people around. We use stunt doubles to build action sequences, then meet the cast and teach them anything they need, like how to fight in a style that suits the movie. Anything too difficult or dangerous, a stunt double will do.”

GET PHYSICAL

“Training is important. You have to be at a peak level the whole time. People look at the stunt people as being able to do anything, so you have to be at a very high standard. You have to eat healthy – lots of protein and greens.”

REWARDS

“It's a super fun job. You meet great people and do really exciting and challenging things, like travelling and experiencing new cultures. Plus, you get to be creative. We always try to find new ways to create action pieces, new camera moves, and new ways of doing things.”

The sets you'll use in real life include a Bakugan ball, trading cards and BakuCores. Unleash Bakugan by rolling that ball across the BakuCores! When you play, you want to out-roll, out-think and overpower your opponents. There are actually over 100 Bakugan to collect in Season One! Pay attention to those B Power and Damage stats on your character card. Just like in the show, each of the factions can help you win battles in their own way. This is useful to know when playing the trading card game and trying to work out which of your many cards to use!

COMBAT POWERS WE RATE...

Double Strike: For Pyrus players, playing this card will deal double damage to opponents in a single attack. It's a great last card!

Shadow Strike: This power card is great for Ventus and Darkus players. Play this card and your B Power and Damage can't be weakened. Score!

Frost Strike: One for Aquos and Haos players! Strike at an opponent – if they want to play a Flip card to stop your attack, they will have to play an extra Energy card for each point. With this move, you will be weakening their deck. Muahaha!

RAD

MARK 'FROSTY' WINTERBOTTOM SLOWED DOWN FOR A MOMENT TO ANSWER

MARK

KZ: Hi Mark! Why did you want to be a professional racing driver?

M: I won my own PeeWee 50cc motorcycle in a local raffle, and that gave me a taste of motorsport. I traded the motorbike for a go-kart and the rest is history!

KZ: Did any childhood activities provide helpful skills for racing?

M: I played state level soccer for years and feel that I have been super competitive from a young age. Soccer taught me how to be a team player, and while motorsport only has one driver, there is also a massive team behind the driver that makes them succeed.

KZ: What's it like driving the No. 18 ZB Commodore?

M: I have the coolest car in the world! It's fast and handles like a dream. The best part is the noise! Nothing can beat the sound of a V8 engine when it is doing 300km/h at Bathurst.

RACER

OUR BIG QUESTIONS!

KZ: Can you share any interesting details about your car?

M: My car cost $500,000 to build and can take up to three months to build.

KZ: What has been the highlight of your career so far?

M: I have been lucky enough to win Bathurst in 2013, and the Championship in 2015. However, my biggest highlight has been the ability to do what I love for so many years. This is my 16th season in Supercars.

KZ: Wow! What is the hardest part of being a professional racing driver?

M: We travel a lot, which means a lot of time away from home and packing a suitcase.

KZ: What would people be surprised to learn about your job?

M: We don't have a coach who teaches us to drive, like in other sports. Everything we do is self-taught, which means a lot of studying and preparation to be successful.

KZ: Do you have any unusual skills?

M: I would like to say I am a good singer but I am not. I can juggle though!

KZ: Can you share any advice with K-Zoners who want to race one day?

M: Start out in go-karts, as this is where every race driver starts. The main reason you go racing is to have fun. You must enjoy it! If you are lucky enough to make a career out of racing then you are lucky.

BMX-TREME

LOGAN MARTIN SPENDS MORE TIME IN THE AIR THAN ON THE GROUND!

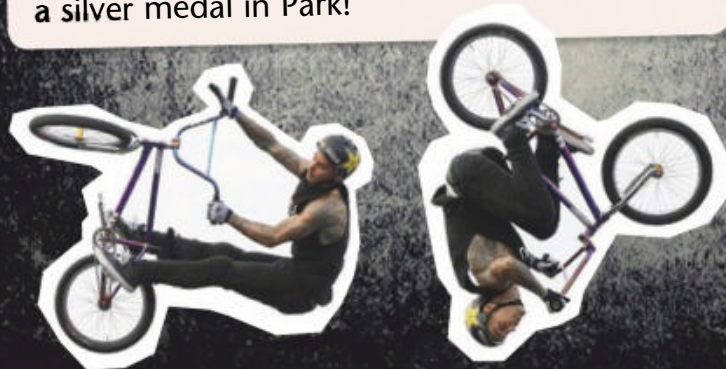

I STARTED RIDING BMX...

When I was around 13, after moving close to a skate park. I really enjoyed the progression side of it, so it became an everyday thing and I learned as much as I could each day. I wanted to get into riding competitions after gaining inspiration from watching X Games and other international competitions on TV.

I LIKE COMPETING AT X GAMES BECAUSE...

I watched X Games on TV when I was starting BMX, and it was the level I wanted to reach. I wanted to ride my bike on TV in front of big crowds – it looked like so much fun! The fact that only the best are invited makes it special. I got my first invite in 2016 and was so excited. I worked hard to get an invite, and wanted to prove I deserved it. At my first X Games, I got a silver medal in Park!

NOW THAT FREESTYLE BMX IS IN THE OLYMPIC PROGRAM...

I am working for that Australian spot, and want to represent my country at the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games. It would be amazing to go to the first Olympics for Freestyle BMX and a gold medal would be life-changing.

MY CAREER HIGHLIGHT SO FAR...

Was winning the Inaugural Freestyle BMX World championship in 2017. Winning the gold medal and rainbow cycling jersey was an amazing achievement for me, because no one else can win the first one! I was also able to tick off my most important goal in 2018 – winning an X Games gold medal.

MY TIP FOR IMPROVING AT BMX IS...

As long as you have fun with anything you are doing and enjoy the journey of learning new things, you are on the right path. You could progress quickly or it may take longer than you think, but patience and enjoying what you do will eventually pay off.

LEAGUE LEGEND

JOHNATHAN THURSTON IS ONE OF NRL'S GREATEST PLAYERS!

THE EARLY DAYS

Johnathan 'JT' Thurston is a NRL legend, but at the start, multiple clubs passed on signing him because they thought he was small and skinny! Luckily, the Canterbury-Bankstown Bulldogs saw something special in JT. He made his first grade NRL debut in 2002 during Round 13, when the Bulldogs beat the Penrith Panthers 38-24!

LIFE AS A COWBOY

JT switched clubs in 2005 and became a North Queensland Cowboy. It was the first year in club history that the team made it to a Premiership grand final! Unfortunately, they lost to the West Tigers, who were also playing their first premiership decider. The score was 30-16.

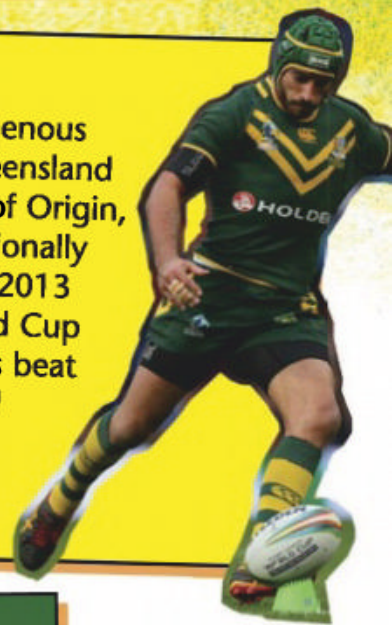

GOLDEN BOY

It took another 10 years for the Cowboys to play a grand final again, but it was worth the wait. In 2015, they beat the Brisbane Broncos, 17-16. Johnathan also scored the winning field goal during golden point!

REP SUPERSTAR

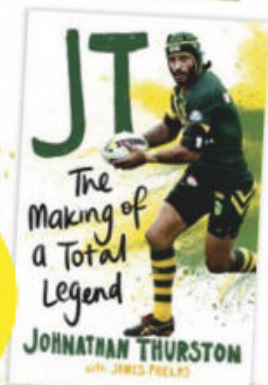

JT was also an Indigenous All Star, helped Queensland beat NSW in State of Origin, and played internationally for Australia. In the 2013 Rugby League World Cup Final, the Kangaroos beat the Kiwis (34-2) and JT was named Man of the Match after nailing 7/7 goals!

THE FINAL GAME

On September 1, 2018, JT played his 323rd (and final) NRL game. It was a sold out game against the Gold Coast Titans, and a crowd of 26,681 people watched the Cowboys win, 30-26. What a way to end his 14 year Cowboy career! As a tribute to JT, a life-sized bronze statue of him will be displayed at the Townsville stadium when it opens in 2020!

JT: The Making of a Total Legend is on sale August 18!

TEAM TIPS

LEVEL UP YOUR GAME WITH TIPS FROM THE MATILDAS!

Put in the hard yards and stay committed. Football is a rollercoaster ride. There are hard times, mentally and physically, but that's what makes the good moments worthwhile and rewarding. Most importantly, don't forget to have fun!

Remember, there's always more to learn! Be humble, open-minded and enjoy the process of getting better. There's no better feeling than reaching one of your goals and knowing how hard you worked to get there.

You need to be good at talking. Communication is one of the major skills as a goalkeeper, because you need to talk to your defenders in the game. The goalkeeper can see the whole field!

If you want to be a better forward, practise different shots, and scoring goals in the corners with a lot of reps in front of goal. I've found it has helped my confidence and helped me be more relaxed in front of the goal in games.

Defenders are the unsung heroes of every team. The strikers get most of the credit for scoring goals, and defenders are often forgotten! Celebrate and take pride in every tackle, blocked shot and clean sheet with your fellow defenders. Pump each other up! Saving goals is just as important as scoring goals!

Be brave! Organise your teammates in front of you to make less work for yourself, and keep your eye on the ball, rather than the players' feet.

You need to be a little crazy to throw yourself around on the ground and through the air. Being fearless and brave is a huge characteristic!

ON THE BALL

INTERNATIONAL BASKETBALL IS BOOMING THIS MONTH!

DUNKING DOWN UNDER

Prepare to see some big international names hit the court when Team USA, Team Canada, Team Australia and Team New Zealand play across Australia from August 16 to 26. The last time a US national basketball team came to Australia was the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games! Aussie fans have waited almost 19 years!

FIBA BASKETBALL WORLD CUP

After the exhibition games, the four international teams will head to the 18th FIBA Basketball World Cup in China. From August 31 to September 15, 32 nations play to be the Men's champion. The USA, Serbia and France took those top three spots at the 2014 Men's World Cup, and the USA, Australia and Spain were on the Women's World Cup podium last year!

BOOMING STARS

The big question is, can the Boomers measure up to the USA and Canada? The 17-man Aussie squad includes Australia's best NBA and NBL players. There are nine NBA players, including the San Antonio Spurs' Patty Mills and the Cleveland Cavaliers' own Matthew Dellavedova. We reckon Australia might have it this year!

COUNT ON CANADA

There's a lot of focus on Team USA, but don't rule out Team Canada! Their head coach, Nick Nurse, is also head coach of the Toronto Raptors. The Raptors won their first Eastern Conference title and NBA Championship this year, making the Toronto team the very first non-American team to win the NBA title!

FIBA BASKETBALL WORLD CUP

The FIBA Basketball World Cup takes place every four years, like the FIFA World Cup! However, the previous FIBA games conflicted with FIFA, and the FIBA Men's World Cup was moved to a new schedule – which is why we all had to wait another year for the competition! The FIBA Women's World Cup remained on schedule and is held the same year as FIFA.

USA ALL STARS

Who is coming Down Under to rep Team USA? It's an important decision that the Head Coach, Gregg Popovic, did not take lightly. He selected a 20-man training squad in early June, and then cut it to 12 in mid August. The team will also play the World Cup. LeBron James won't be in Oz – he's filming Space Jam 2!

PITCH PERFECT

AUSSIE MEGAN SCHUTT IS ONE OF THE BEST BOWLERS IN THE WORLD!

BEFORE BECOMING A PRO CRICKET PLAYER...

I never thought I would play for Australia. So, when I was younger, I simply played for the love of the game and mates that I made through it. Once it became professional, it was a dream come true. I started by playing against my friends and the boys in primary school, then played club cricket and was chosen for state programs through that.

WHEN I WASN'T PLAYING CRICKET...

I played every sport I could through primary school and parts of high school. I played netball, basketball, AFL and baseball. I loved my time playing AFL – I feel like the athletic nature of it helped me to develop agility for cricket. I also played baseball and I think that helped me with my throwing!

MY CAREER HIGHLIGHT SO FAR...

Was in November 2018, when we won the T20 World Cup over in the West Indies. The way we played and the fun we had off the field made that the most enjoyable and satisfying tour ever. Lifting that trophy was awesome!

I ALWAYS LOOK FORWARD TO PLAYING...

England. The long-standing rivalry between our two teams makes for awesome games of cricket. The Ashes is personally my favourite tour. Plenty of banter too.

MY BOWLING TIP IS...

Plenty of practise. I couldn't count the number of balls I've bowled in my lifetime, but every session makes me a better bowler. Also, be confident and have fun; if you're not having fun then you won't give 100%!

MY ADVICE FOR K-ZONERS WHO WANT TO PLAY CRICKET PROFESSIONALLY IS...

If you love the game you play, work hard and have fun, then you're likely to go far.

STUNTS!

FARTHEST DISTANCE BY A HUMAN CANNONBALL

This is David 'The Bullet' Smith Jr., a record breaking human cannonball! On March 13, 2018, he was fired 59.43m from a cannon at Raymond James Stadium in Tampa, USA. David actually held the previous record too, travelling 59.05m on March 10, 2011! He also holds the record for greatest height achieved by a human cannonball! The very unusual job apparently runs in the family. His sister, Jennifer 'Cannon Lady' Schneider, also performs, while his father and two other sisters have retired!

Forget about engines, cockpits or fuel, because Red Bull Paper Wings only relies on paper and the pilot's skill! Participants compete as a Paper Wings pilot in three different categories; longest distance, longest airtime or aerobatics. For Red Bull Paper Wings 2019, 'qualifyer' events were held in multiple countries, with thousands of participants judged on construction, performance and creativity. The national winners in each category travelled to Salzburg, Austria to battle for victory at the World Finals in May! The three Global Winners received flights to the Red Bull Air Race in Hungary in July, and the title of world champ. The Longest Airtime Global Winner was a talented Aussie called Cameron Clark, whose design remained airborne for 13.02 seconds!

BALLOON

INCRED BALLOON ENTERTAINER, MATT FALLOON, SHOWS US HOW TO MAKE A LIGHT

TOP TIP

Use modelling or twisting '260' sized balloons and a balloon pump to follow this guide!

STEP 1

1 Pick your colours! In this example, the silver is the hilt, the green is the blade, and black is the guard. Inflate the balloons using a pump. Inflate the hilt halfway, and the guard one third of the way. Fully inflate the blade, then half deflate it from the nozzle before tying, to give the blade a rounded end.

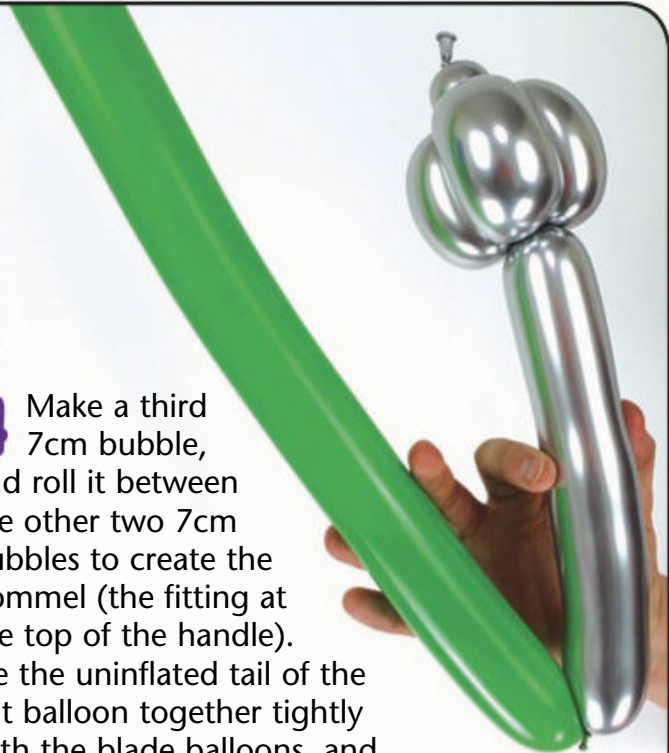

2 Using the hilt balloon, make a 2cm bubble, then two 7cm bubbles.

3 Twist the two 7cm bubbles together.

4 Make a third 7cm bubble, and roll it between the other two 7cm bubbles to create the pommel (the fitting at the top of the handle). Tie the uninflated tail of the hilt balloon together tightly with the blade balloons, and trim any uninflated balloon.

MASTER

SABER!

5 Create a small 2cm bubble in the guard balloon, and follow it with a 20cm bubble. Twist both together to create a loop.

6 Repeat the fifth step and twist it into a second loop. Tie up the uninflated tail and trim any of the excess length.

7 Push the blade balloon through the two guard loops, and position both of the loops to cover the spot where the handle attaches to the blade.

LEVEL UP

Play around with colours to make your favourite lightsaber, or change the colours completely to make a pirate sword!

A DRAWING IN LA!

I've played Splatoon 2 since the day of release on July 21, 2017. I got it straight after school. I hadn't played the original on the Wii U much, so I was excited to get into it. Lime Soda was formed in August 2018. The original members (Will, Iona, George, and Jack) played together until recruiting me in January, and recently added Trent.

My strengths are my awareness of everyone's movements, understanding the type of situation I can get into by making a certain play, and communicating locations to my team. I need to work on coordinating as a team when making a push on the objective, or defending it. I also need to avoid being frustrated when I'm splatted, and focusing on calling out the opposition.

At the exact moment that Game 9 of the Splatoon 2 Australasian Open ended, I stood up in disbelief and went to hug Will, who was next to me. We hugged for at least 10 seconds, trying to process what had happened. Being 4-0 down, to win five in a row was unbelievable. I was in complete shock and so were the rest of Lime Soda.

To prepare for the Splatoon 2 World Championship in Los Angeles, Lime Soda did a handful of online tournaments, as well as practises known as 'scrim' against Australian teams, but sadly we weren't able to plan scrims against international teams.

The highlight of my experience in LA was definitely meeting the international teams and commentators, as well as playing on the big stage in front of hundreds of fans in the theatre and online watching the stream.

To improve your Splatoon 2 skills, seeking advice from top players is always the best option. Just keep playing the game. You can always improve your knowledge by playing, but that doesn't mean you can't take a break for a little while. Some top players have needed a break and they always come back better than ever.

FIFA 20's Volta mode can be played on rooftops, in cages, and in underpasses.

PES now has 'eFootball' in the name, due to a bigger focus on eSports!

PES 2020 uses 3D scanning tech for realistic stadiums and lifelike players.

SOCCER RIVALRY

We pit the biggest soccer sims of 2019 against each other in an on-the-pitch showdown. It's EA's FIFA 20 vs Konami's eFootball PES 2020!

► DRIBBLE DUEL

PES may have double the '20' in its title, but FIFA 20's numbers are laser-focused on 1v1s. Take advantage of more space for bigger plays. PES 2020 counters with Finesse Dribbling. More clobber, less slobber! Slink between defenders to score.

► SLIDING DEFENCE

To stop the score hitting double digits, FIFA 20 is packing smarter defender AI. They'll help you on the D, then harass you when you've got the ball. PES 2020's defense really kicks up near the goal box. Opposition on a score streak? Maybe pop an intentional foul!

► SCORING OPPS

PES 2020 rewards kicking skills with scoring thrills. Respect the three Ps; position, posture and pressure. These impact shot accuracy. In FIFA 20, freebie kicks and penalty kicks are rebuilt into a LEGO-like set piece. It's EZier and offers greater accuracy for your next netter!

► MASTERFUL MODES

FIFA 20's Volta Football is a rad score-fest within the main game. Volta ditches grassy pitches for sweet feats on the streets! Meanwhile, PES 2020's Master League swaps kicks for managerial tricks. Master the behind the scenes decisions to ensure team victory.

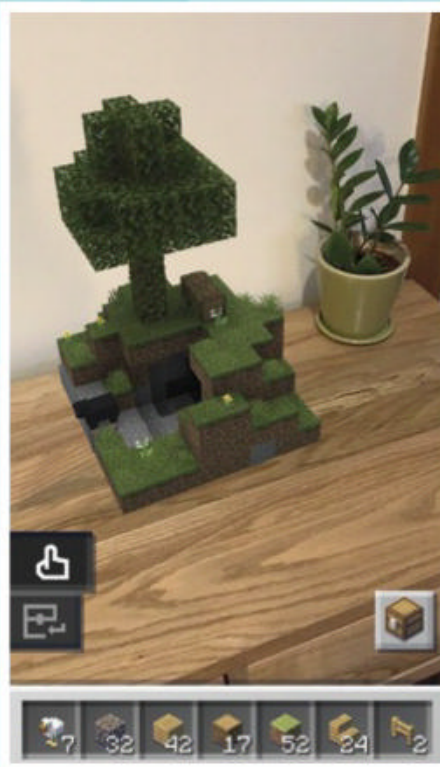

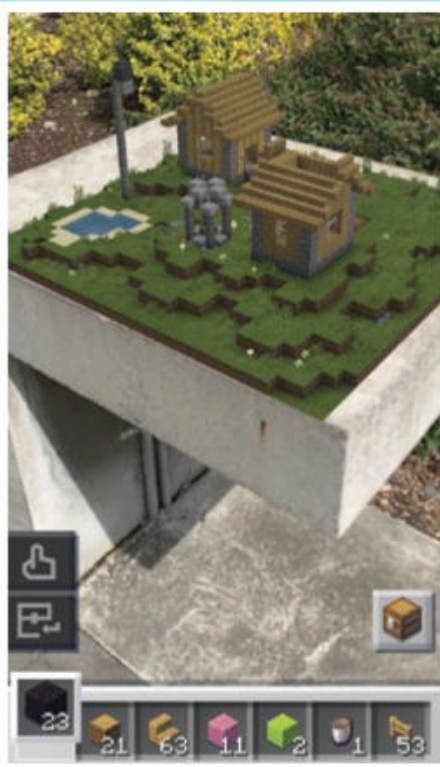

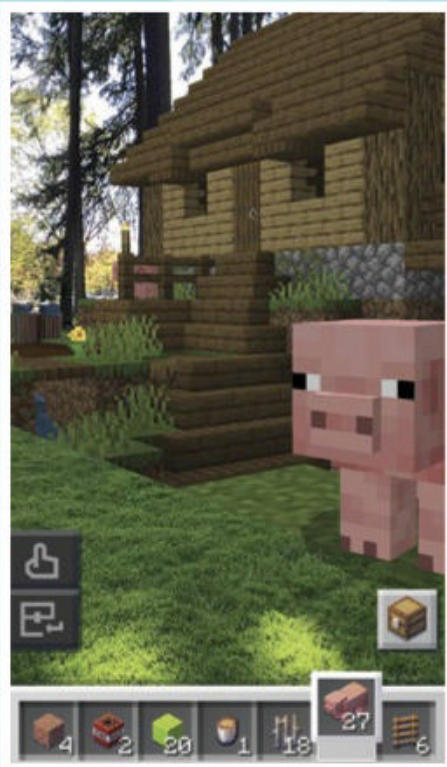

► FANTASY FOOTY

PES 2020's Matchday combines IRL matches with gameplay. Pick your fave team from an upcoming IRL match-up, then score global points! FIFA 20 is more focused on individual players. Build the perf Volta baller, switch duds and hairdos, and pick a goal celebration.

► BALL TRICKS

Soccer is all about the ball, y'all! FIFA 20 now offers spinnier and bouncier balls. Dig deep into sweet new shot angles for radder goals. The first ball toe-tap in PES 2020 feels great. Pro players can predict pitch path, or use the full foot for full-on footy control.

In FIFA 20, you'll find your manually controlled goalkeeper is slower, and more limited, which boosts the risk/reward element.

PLANET MINECRAFT

What on Earth is this? Looks like you've managed to find a mobile Minecraft game that makes our entire planet into one massive biome for your next big blocky build or battle!

► BUILDING BLOCKS

Like reg Minecraft, building blocks don't come out of thin air! In Minecraft Earth, you can dig up blocks IRL, then use 'em or share 'em. Gone to the beach? Mine some sand blocks, then swap sand with a buddy who managed to dig up rocks in the mountains.

► FLOOR PLANS

With the right resources, it's time to build. First you need a base, right? Anything flat can be your foundation! Point the mobile at it, and build with augmented reality (AR) or add to your rad base. Pocket the phone, then bring out your build on another flat surface.

► MOB MADNESS

It's not Minecraft without mobs, and Minecraft Earth has mountains of 'em. Find the mobs outside. Many are familiar, but the devs are teasing new ones. Collect two of the same mob – they'll create an egg! Give the egg away, or hatch it as a distraction in a fight!

► BACKYARD BRAVERY

There are adventures out there in your very own neighbourhood. Grab your phone and look around to find a nearby Minecraft world. Once you have found one, explore it. Dig up blocks to fill your inventory, or fight off monster mobs. Fire some arrows, slash swords, and set explosive traps. Don't let 'em get too close!

► BUDDY BUILDING

You don't have to craft alone. Bring your base to a buddy for show and tell, or send them a copy of your base. You can help build (or break) your biggest creations! Plus, enlarge your masterpiece until it's life size IRL for easier collabs.

DID YOU KNOW?
There's an old saying; many hands make light work. That's true in Tools Up! but many hands also make (fun) fight work. Tools Up! is totes a co-op game, but it also lets you combo co-op with competitive. Block doors, toss useful items away, and throw buddies into other rooms.

TOOLS UP!

We saw you hammering your way through a construction drill to ensure you're the ruler of the next level you want to nail down!

Overcooked! is tons of delicious fun, but when the heat just becomes too much, step out of the kitchen and... into another room! Tools Up! is the Overcooked! of home renos. Ditch the grill and pick up a drill! Your job is to fix up apartments in a secretive skyscraper. Take on this mammoth task alone, or with up to three pals. Either way, you're racing against the clock. You have a blueprint to show you the intended design, but only the person holding the blueprint can shift the camera. Cool communication is critical. Rip off wallpaper, or bash down walls to make space. Splash on a new lick of paint, lug around heavy couches together, and finish it all with some tiles. Along the way, you will unlock a lot more than new doors to the next big renovation job. There are fun-filled characters, plenty of party mode maps to master, and of course, all the sneaky secrets hidden within the mysterious building.

WAY TO THE WOODS

OK, today we have to say we're on the way to the woods and clearly we may have to stay, just to play!

Oh, dear... What do we have here? A deer duo is trying to get out of the citizen-less city, and then back to the woods. Way to the Woods may seem to have a simple goal, but there are many complicated challenges in your way. You play as a doe (a deer) with a fawn (baby deer) in tow. Find the delights of lights, then follow them home. The high-tech doe is packing antlers that can light up, which is a skill that will help in the dark, and to blot out sinister shadows. You can also lead glowing fish to safety. Uhh. Y'know, just coz. Those spiky antlers are also perfect for banging against windows to solve puzzles, or even into vending machines in order to score a few snacks. Watch out for drooling dogs! Not every furry thing is a foe, though. For example, you'll find the giant cat god in the sewer. Yep, for real. Way to the Woods totally mixes and mashes weird yet wonderful ideas in totally terrific ways.

 The 2017 movie, Jumanji: Welcome to the Jungle, was a sequel to the classic Jumanji movie. The sequel wasn't expected to be a hit, and it took four writers to crack the story. The film's popularity has led to another movie, called Jumanji: The Next Level, and this game to play!

JUMANJI: THE VIDEO GAME

A videogame for those who seek to peek into a familiar game world, which is now an actual game instead of an IRL movie set!

Play this videogame, based on the movie about a videogame, based on the movie about a board game, that was based on a book. Phew! Jumanji: The Video Game wants to welcome you to the jungle. You know the deal. It's up to you and three buddies to save Jumanji. Play with AI-controlled pals, or dive into couch co-op with splitscreen play. The first essential step is picking your avatar. Would you want the smouldering intensity (and zero weaknesses) of Smolder Bravestone? You could choose the map knowledge and low stamina of Shelly Oberon, or the animal expertise (and cake allergy) of Franklin Finbar. Perhaps the martial artist Ruby Roundhouse is more your style? Remember, teamwork is gonna make this dream work. Duel armies of marauders to find jewels, tame deadly beasts, stay clear of tricky traps and keep an eye out for the customisation treasures. PRO TIP!

This trick applies to almost every racing game, but it's important if you want to avoid smashing your ride in F1 2019. Slow down for the corners, but smash the accelerator on the way out! The timing takes practise, but you'll have fewer spins and more wins once you master it.

There's no chemistry class or kit required in order to distil and bottle the furiously fast fun of Formula One, because we have this game!

Strap in. You're about to drive some of the most freakishly fast cars in the world. Before you do, you'll need to slap on some F2 training wheels! Yes, F1 2019 ultimately wants you to be tearing up the track in F1 cars, but you start off in new F2 cars to learn the racing ropes. These vehicles are smaller, with less grunt and an easier driving experience. This way, you can get a feel for when these beasts slip versus when the car grips and rips revs. The F2s are second for a reason. F1 is the number one for the highest speed fun! Tweak your menu assists to shift between arcade awesome and racing realism, then get lost in the official F1 World Championships fun. Not for you? If a single race is more your pace, steer things towards a Grand Prix weekend pit stop. Keep all of those tricky AI racers in your rear-view. They will offer a smidge of breathing space, and you'll be able to pounce on any chance to overtake.

PRO TIP!

Don't get attached to your four fave fighters. You're gonna find stacks and it's good to have a mix of hero types. A brawler like Wolverine, a tough smasher like Hulk, at least one flyer or web-slinger (like Iron Man or Spider-Gwen), and definitely a ranged shooter like Hawkeye.

MARVEL ULTIMATE ALLIANCE 3: THE BLACK ORDER

Take down the nasty Black Order from the superheroic safety of your ultimate alliance of marvellous comic characters!

The pesky Infinity Stones may have finally been dealt with in Avengers: Endgame, but there's a whole new story going on with Infinity Stones in Marvel Ultimate Alliance 3: The Black Order. Best bit? Your ultimate alliance isn't just a group of friendly superheroes, and it isn't just a bunch of villains. Recruit your own dream team of Avengers. The choices aren't limited to the MCU either – you can pick from all the Marvel comics! You roll with four legends, but unlock and upgrade fan faves. Tackle the Black Order as a solo Avenger and switch among your roster, or play with up to three friends on a Switch. Combine light and heavy attacks on foes, then use their synergy moves, like bouncing Iron Man's beams off Cap's shield. The biggest impact is definitely the four-fighter Ultimate Alliance Extreme power.

CRASH TEAM RACING NITRO-FUELED

Turn your full throttle driving skills from crashed to crash-hot in Crash Team Racing Nitro-Fueled with two cheeky race cheats!

► PENGUIN POWER

Want secret speedster Penta Penguin? Hold down both controller bumpers on the main menu – L1+R1 on PS4, RB+LB on Xbox One, L+R on Switch. For Switch, keep holding, and hit down, right, X, down, left, X, up. The ding lets you know you nailed it!

► FRUITY INVINCIBILITY

Nabbing Wumpa Fruit to help juice up your speed and pick-ups is pretty tough. At the main menu, hold both controller bumpers. Now, tap down, right, right, down and down to be gifted 99 Wumpa Fruit for maximum speed and overpowered pick-ups! If you want permanent invisibility, hold the bumpers again at the main menu, then start punching in up, up, down, right, right, up. Where'd you go!?

IMAGINATION, POPULARITY, AND MAGIC!

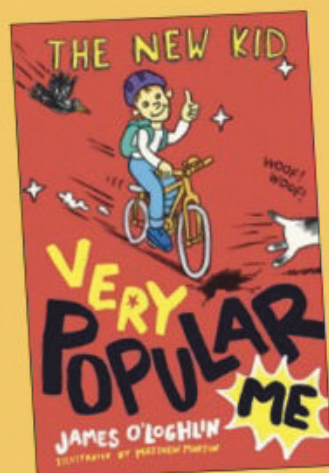

THE LAND OF ROAR

JENNY MCLACHLAN

Arthur and Rose used to be heroes in the Land of Roar. Climbing through a folding bed in their grandfather's attic took the twins to an imaginary world of dragons, ninja wizards, mermaids, and a very creepy scarecrow. Now that they are 11, Roar is just a memory. However, when Grandad is cleaning the attic, Arthur is horrified to see him pulled into the folding bed. Could Roar be real?

THE NEW KID

VERY POPULAR ME

JAMES O'LOGLIN

Sam is finally popular. Kids sit with him at lunch, Johnny Wilson doesn't call him 'derr-brain', and he owns the school's most wanted marble. He's also getting a baby sister, which means he won't be lonely ever again! Things change when Sam becomes the teacher's pet, and his popularity drops. Even his best friend talks to him less!

THE DENTIST OF DARKNESS

DAVID O'CONNELL

Archie was looking forward to spending the summer on picnics by the loch, chasing ghosts through the castle and trying sweets from the McBudge Confectionery Company. When the Wyrdie Tree, the source of magic in Dundoodle, starts to die, it looks like Archie is the only one who can save it. There are mysteries at every turn, and a scary dentist to avoid!

PEEK THROUGH THE TUNNEL INTO THE LAND OF ROAR!

WELCOME TO ROAR

Rose and Arthur Trout created Roar when they were little, but it's been years since the twins have visited. The citizens of Roar have been experiencing earthquakes and strange disappearances! Now, Rose is trying to forget Roar, and Arthur must return alone to rescue their grandfather from an old enemy.

CROWKY

This terrifying creature is a combination of Arthur's fear of scarecrows and crows. Crowky's eyes are black buttons, and his voice is as scratchy as a nail being dragged down a wall. His wings are covered in greasy, black feathers, but he has recently been experiencing trouble flying. Crowky is feared across Roar, and has grown stronger since Arthur and Rose left. He can drain the life from creatures to turn them into scarecrows, and controls a scarecrow army with his mind. Crowky lives in the Crow's Nest, a castle in The Bottomless Sea.

WIN

This is Arthur's best friend in Roar! Win is also a wizard ninja, AKA a wininja! His spells don't always go to plan, but he has a wand and a wakizashi – a sword made from triple-folded nymph steel!

PROSECCO

This giant black stallion is Rose's friend, and his tail is poisonous to boys. Every strand stings like a bee, with the intensity of a thousand needles burrowing into their skin!

THE LOST GIRLS

This guerrilla unit trains in secret, committing daring ambushes and raids on unsuspecting citizens. After a recent attack on their leader, the Lost Girls retreated deep into the forest.

COOL CREATOR

MATT BRALY IS THE CREATOR OF THE NEW SHOW, AMPHIBIA, ON DISNEY CHANNEL!

K-Z: Hi Matt! When did you first start thinking about your show, Amphibia?

M: I've had the idea for around four years. The show was inspired by my memories of trips to Bangkok, Thailand as a child. My mother would take me to visit her side of the family every year and as a kid from California, I remember feeling like I had been transported to another world. The food, culture and humidity took time to get used to, but a magical thing always happened where by the end of the trip, I didn't want to leave. I was looking to bottle that feeling for my own show. In Amphibia, Anne arrives and definitely feels uncomfortable, and over the course of the season her point of view will change.

K-Z: Did anything else inspire you?

M: A photo of my grandmother as a child inspired Anne's look. In the photo (which is from around 1920), my grandmother has this incredible wild child hair and fierce expression. I've always looked at that photo and thought, 'Wow, what a great character.'

K-Z: Did you research amphibians?

M: At the start of season one, we took a field trip to Long Beach Aquarium. Learning about amphibians inspired some stories, specifically the episode 'Snow Day,' where the townsfolk freeze during a cold snap. This is based on the biology of the Alaskan wood frog, which freezes solid each year to hibernate.

K-Z: Any tips for creating a show?

M: As you develop it, learn to identify what is flexible and what isn't. For example, the main character's personality is important, but their hat probably isn't. Let others see your work often and early. Pitch characters to people and watch their face. Lastly, learn to read what people respond to. It has more in common with improv than you would think.

K-Z: What would you say to K-Zoners who want to be an artist in animation?

M: Don't be so hard on yourself. Everyone learns and grows at their own pace. I often felt like I was pushing myself too hard in school and wish I'd taken it easier. You produce your best work when you're happy and healthy.

PRANKS! PRANKS! PRANKS!

AS THANKS, WE OFFER PRANKS!

K-ZONER PRANK

PONG BOMB

Crack one egg into a re-sealable sandwich bag. Add a teaspoon of dairy milk and vinegar. Seal the bag and stash it somewhere safe for a week. Place it in a sibling's room with the seal opened.

Caleb, NSW

HORSING AROUND

Holding carrots, walk around in public calling out 'Misty' while looking worried. When someone asks what you're doing, say you've lost your horse. This prank works best in a department store.

FRAGILE FUN

Place a Bluetooth speaker in your kitchen and find a convincing breaking glass sound effect on your smart device. Next, play the shattering sound super loud and follow it up by saying 'Oh no!' – then just sit back and wait. Everyone else in the house will come running into the room to see what happened.

FAKE FALL

Pretend to trip and as you hit the ground, slap a tomato sauce packet hard against your knee, so the sauce explodes all over your leg. Scream out in pain, pointing at the sauce-covered leg. The agony! Try it multiple times on different friends!
